

A word cloud map of the United States where each state's outline is filled with words from a specific genre. The genres are color-coded: Romance (pink), Mystery (blue), Science Fiction (orange), Fantasy (green), Horror (purple), Thriller (yellow), and Crime (red). The size of the words indicates their frequency within that genre across all states.

The map shows a clear regional distribution of genres. The West Coast (California, Oregon, Washington) is dominated by Science Fiction and Fantasy. The Northeast (New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island) is heavily represented by Romance and Mystery. The South (Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Louisiana) shows a mix of Romance, Mystery, and Thriller. The Midwest (Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Wisconsin, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota) is more evenly distributed among Romance, Mystery, and Thriller. The Great Plains and Mountain West (Wyoming, Montana, Idaho, Nevada, Utah, Colorado, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana) show a mix of Romance, Mystery, and Thriller, with a notable presence of Horror in the Southwest.
